A CONFIDENCE GAME.

An Old Soldier Swindled by an Adroit Washington Thief.

A decrepid old soldier named James Dorsey who arrived here a few days since from San Diego, Cal., to get his discharge, was the victim of a very mean confidence trick yestervicini of a very mean confidence frick yester-day. He had succeeded in arranging his matters at the war department and was about to leave for New York, where he has a son living at No. 50 EROGEM Effect. Ten dollars was all the money the poor old fellow had left, and he imocently inquired from a member of one of the gangs of thieying loafers that infest the lower half of Pennsylvania avenue how he could get a ticket at less than the full rates to New York. The fellow said that he was going to New York too, and was just going to see a ricend of his in the railroad office to get a cheap ticket. The two went across to the flattinore and following middle down stairs and hold his new-found companion's "baggage check", while the latter went upstairs to get their tickets. Telling his victim that the regular fine was $10, he took $5 from him, for which he promised to "try and get him a ticket." The old nam was fed at the appointed place for an hour, but neither ticket nor accommodating friend did he see. The "baggage check" was tound to be a worthless piece of brass, with the letters "I. H. and a number day. He had succeeded in arranging his mateck" was found to be a worthless piece of iss, with the letters "U. H." and a number

An English Legacy.

On April 25, 1882, the will of the late James W. Frere, in which he bequeathed all of his centre, an helicatiany of James B. Frere, decased, to his medier, Elizabeth Frere, was admitted to probate and record. The property referred to is situated on Twentieth afred, between I and K streets northwest. Subsequently it was neertained that there was no money due the estate in England, and the executer, Eichasid A. Forre, naving failed to come forward and qualify, and others renouncing their right to administer upon the estate, on Oct. 19, 1883, Judge-Cox, holding the orphans' court, appointed John J. Johnson, esq., admitistrator. Yesterday that gentleman returned to the court the following as assets of the estate: "After considerable trouble, I have succosded in recovering from England a legacy that was due the deceased under the will of Mrs. Merrick of $2,98,93." The heirs are Elizabeth M. Frere, mother: John E. Frere, Richard M. Frere, Brethard M. Frere, Sarah J. Hardin, and Mary A. German, brothers and since the

LUCINDA WILLIAMS'S ESTATE. Her Daughter's Dispute in Court Over the Division of the Property. In the matter of the estate of Lareinda Willover which a contest has grown Mrs. ne Mason yesterday renewed her appli-to the orphans' court for letters of adistration. In the petition Mrs. Mason is that the deceased departed this life July 584, leaving as next of kin two daughters, petitioner and Mary A. McCarty. In adthe petitioner and Mary A. McCarty. In addition to certain moneys and credits and articles of wearing appeal; the decedont died possessed of a halfament for $100 against Mary A. McCarty, which is still unestined, and the personal estate is worth about $700. It is further stated that the intesance at the time of her death was indebted in the amount of $500 to which is to be added $255 for funeral expenses. The peti I mer asserts that she is entitled to the letters of administration as next of kin, and that Mary A. McCarty is largely indebted to the estate, and now claims all, or nearly all, of the estate by virtue of a pretended bill of anie from the intestate which Mrs. Mason says she has been advised is fraudulent and void, being entirely without consideration, and the deceased having been unduly indicanced to make it while laboring under great mental and body infirmity. For these reasors Mrs. Mason jirays that letters may be issued to her as provided by the statutes.

The date of the ratification meeting was agreed to as Sept. 11. An advisory board was appointed by the chair, on motion, as follows: Geo. W. Cochran, A. A. Wilson, Samuel Wheatley, William Dickson, Harry E. Davis, J. H. Gates, W. O. Baldwin, Lawrence Gardner, John S. Miller, and Edward D. Wright.

Mr. William Dickson made an address, in the course of which he referred to the reports received from all quarters, especially the doubtful states. He said that the district must on no account allow its record in the last campaign of having firmished more funds than the states of Maryland and Virginia combined to be lowered at this time. Harmony among the various district democratic organizations was urzed, providing all others shall agree to the proposition that this committee is the one and only representative body. On motion of Mr. Borsey Clagett, the following executive committee was appointed to attend to the routine business of the campaign, Messers, Clagett, Yates, Entwisie, Shelion, and W. P. Beil. The committee then adjourned.

Charles Pelham in his lawyer-like and high-toned production, introduced by such startling head-lines in your issue of the 5th Instant. As he seems to fear, however, that he may be provoked to some violent act, and wants to be restrained, and may need assurances upon that point, I beg leave to assure him, for myself and "co-conspirator," that we have no expectation of scitling the questions which may arise as to the administration of the Betts estate by newspaper articles or violence, or in any other way than by the legally constituted modes known to the law, and supposes to be known by lawyers. The suggestion of robbery of a dead man's estate comes more naturally to those who seek to prevent administration under the protection of the law than to those who invoke such administration.

DR. C. L. ANDERSON,

601 THIRTEENTH STREET, CORNER F STREET, Formerly Expert of the SHEFFIELD TOOTH CROWN COMPANY, New York City, has

Tooth Crowns and Artificial Teeth Without Plates.

This system entirety obviates the necessity of extracting teeth, does away with artificial teeth, prevents the suffering caused by decay of the teeth and consequent, extraction of the roots (producing a change in the expression of the face and mouth), and avoids the pain and excessive annoyance of a plate.

By this method roots and badly decayed teeth, which are firm in position, may be restored to a frect usefulness and beauty, performing the office of medication like the natural teeth.
